ABSTRACT

Selected facts and figures are provided about education in Alaska in 32 pages of brief tables. Information is provided concerning the 54 public school districts in Alaska where the average daily membership in 1989-90 reached 104,035 students. In most instances, data are presented for a span of years from the 1970's. Selected topics include: teacher certification; numbers of teachers; teacher salaries; the student-teacher ratio; graduates; graduates' post-school plans; achievement test scores; special programs, including statistics on costs and student numbers; bilingual/bicultural students; boarding home program costs; computers in schools; food programs; gifted and talented students; handicapped students; and migrant education students. Addresses of individual districts and superintendents are listed, as are the telephone numbers for the different offices of the Alaska State Department of Education. (SLD)
